Distinguished Presenters

Eric Garner is the Media Arts Teacher at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, Florida. Garner is praised for sheltering dozens of students in his classroom during the Parkland shooting on February 14, 2018. To his credit, he kept his kids calm and safe, then participated in the arduous reunification process. Mr. Garner has coedited a book entitled, "We Say #NeverAgain: Reporting by the Parkland Student Journalists".

Maurice "Mo" Canady is the Executive Director for the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO). He is a former Lieutenant with the City of Hoover Police Department, in Hoover, Alabama. During his 25 year career, Mr. Canady dedicated his final 12 years commanding the School Services Division, which provided services to more than 13,000 students. Mr. Canady has been instructing law enforcement officers since 1993 and is a past president of the Alabama Association of School Resource Officers.

Don Bridges is the Past President of the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO). He is a School Resource Officer with the Baltimore County Police Department, in Baltimore, Maryland. During his 28 year career, Mr. Bridges has focused on creating school crisis management plans, emergency preparedness, and has been a recipient of NASRO's Model SRO Agency award. Mr. Bridges has dutifully served 10 elementary schools all while holding the distinction of being an active member of the Baltimore County Hostage Negotiation Team.

Aaron Skrbín is the director of Safety and Security with the Allegheny Intermediate Unit. Prior to that Mr. Skrbín was a High School Principal and Director of School Safety in the South Fayette Township School District.
